Festival in full flow as thousands join the fun

THOUSANDS of people have been enjoying the delights of this year's Crouch End Festival.

The annual event, which kicked off on Friday, has so far included performances from musicians and school choirs in the main square as well as a Surprise Cinema experience introduced by Peter Bradshaw.

The festival is spread throughout the shops and the roads in the area with art workshops in galleries, special church services and storytelling at the library.

The festival continues until Sunday and includes 160 events at 70 venues across Crouch End and Hornsey, led by 250 performers. It has been sponsored by estate agents Martyn Gerrard for the second year.

This week's events include the Crouch End Players presenting Vintage Radio Theatre at Holy Innocents Church, in Tottenham Lane, on Friday and an African Caribbean workout class at the Town Hall stage on Saturday.

The festival finishes at 8.30pm on Sunday with a screening of a series of short films based on the theme of "Wanderlust" at The Railway Tavern, in Crouch End Hill.

COCKROACH ALARM AT LEISURE CENTRE

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A SWIMMER has spoken of her horror after stumbling across a cockroach infestation at her leisure centre.

Eileen Bainbridge, 47, of Beaconsfield Road, Tottenham, was changing at Tottenham Green Leisure Centre when she saw a cockroach scuttle through the locker she was using.

"It was horrific," she said. "I looked at it, realised what it was and put it in my lunch box because if I just thought nobody would believe me if I didn't keep it. I just couldn't believe it."

The shocked communications support worker called after a mother with a young baby who had just used the same locker.

Together they discovered two of the pests crawling through the mum's bag that contained her 18-month-old daughter's clothes.

Ms Bainbridge immediately contacted the manager of the centre, in Philip Lane, who openly admitted staff knew about the infestation.

She was told that not only did staff know the changing rooms were crawling with the pests, but they had even been spraying pesticides throughout the centre in a bid to terminate the problem.

A furious Ms Bainbridge added: "I am so cross. They knew they had a problem and they didn't notify anyone. They should have just told us that there was an issue."

"It is a really dirty swimming pool, but I never thought cockroaches would infect it because it is a public place, it is a swimming pool."

A spokeswoman from Fusion Lifestyle, who run the centre for Haringey Council, said: "We apologise for any distress caused by the reported incident and would like to emphasise that we take customer complaints very seriously."

"Managers of the centre are working with both environmental services and approved suppliers to deal with the issue of cockroaches on site, a problem that unfortunately can be an ongoing challenge for many leisure centres."

"We are currently utilising pesticides within the centre to tackle the problem, but would like to reassure customers that these are not harmful to the health of visitors and the centre, including the swimming pool and changing areas, is entirely safe for public use while these treatments are taking place."

Horrified: Eileen Bainbridge displays a cockroach she discovered in a locker at Tottenham Green Leisure Centre before scooping it up and taking it home

£25m rail improvement plan on the right track

By Kim Inam

kim.inam@nlhnews.co.uk

MILLIONS of pounds is being invested to improve transport links in the east of the borough.

Mayor of London Boris Johnson looks set to approve recommendations to commit £25million to upgrade the rail line – with additional services calling at Angel Road station, via Tottenham Hale, every hour – along with a £2.5m upgrade to Angel Road station in Conduit Lane, Upper Edmonton.

The move has been hailed as an important step for the regeneration plans in the Meridian Way area which include proposals to create additional housing, school and medical services in the area.

Mr Johnson, said: “Transport links area vital precursor to economic development. This money is earmarked for investment into transport schemes which have significant potential to stimulate growth and job creation.”

Project bosses now have to submit more detailed business cases to the Greater London Authority’s Investment and Performance Board, but if given the go-ahead the rail investment will see four trains call at Angel Road station every hour and will increase passenger capacity

Enfield Council’s cabinet member for business and regeneration Del Goddard said: “This will help to drive forward the regeneration of the £1.3billion Meridian

Full speed ahead: Angel Road station is set for an upgrade, along with a multi-million-pound improvement planned for the rail line

Water development which will provide up to 5,000 homes and 3,000 jobs and an estimated £10.7bn boost to the UK economy by 2031.

“We are absolutely committed to creating the ideal conditions for businesses to flourish and ensure they can create the jobs and opportunities for residents while building a stronger, more diverse and vibrant economy for Enfield and London as a whole.”

Enfield North MP Nick de Bois, who was part of the lobbying team for the investment, added: “This is fantastic news as this money will deliver much-needed transport improvements to attract businesses that will invest in Enfield.”

Councillor in arrears on bill for council tax

A COUNCILLOR is in debt to Enfield Council after not coughing up for council tax, the Advertiser can reveal.

Although the authority would not disclose the name of the councillor who is not fully paid up on their council tax bill, a spokesman for the authority confirmed that one of the borough’s 63 local politicians is currently in arrears.

However, the council refused to tell the Advertiser how much the councillor owed, citing data protection laws.

It also would not reveal what, if any, measures were being taken against the elected councillor.

Councillors voted to freeze council tax across the borough for the fourth year in a row in February.

On average, Enfield councillors receive an annual basic allowance of £10,500 a year towards the work they do for the borough.

Rapist gets life (that's eight years' minimum) for attack on girl, 11

By Koos Couvée

koos.couvee@nlhnews.co.uk

A MAN who raped an 11-year-old girl in an Edmonton park last year was jailed for life last week.

Opemipo Jaji, 18, of Oswald Place, Edmonton, who had a history of sexual violence, was sentenced at the Old Bailey on Friday to a minimum of eight years behind bars for the brutal attack on the schoolgirl as she made her way home on November 23.

Jaji carried out a three-hour attack on the girl in Jubilee Park, in Galliard Road, after the teenager had spotted her on a 192 bus travelling from Enfield Town.

He followed her as she got off the bus at 4.45pm before dragging her into the park, where he stripped her, gagged her with one of her gloves and repeatedly raped her.

Following the savage attack the schoolgirl was admitted to hospital and underwent surgery because of her injuries.

Jaji sat calmly in the dock as Mr Justice Singh told him: "Even the risk of being seen by a member of the public did not deter you from carrying on with your vicious attack on your lonely and vulnerable victim."

"One can only hope that, with the courage that she has already shown in giving evidence at this trial, and with the support of her family and friends, she can begin the process of recovery."

Life sentence: Opemipo Jaji, right, has been jailed for the attack on the 11-year-old girl in Jubilee Park, Edmonton

"Having observed you during the course of the trial, it is my view that you are someone who is capable of lying and able to manipulate those around you to serve your interests."

The judge added that one of the disturbing features of the case was that Jaji had told his probation officer he was planning to rape a young girl two months before he attacked the 11-year-old – and he was on his way back from a meeting with his probation officer when he struck.

Adam Lowe, chief inspector at the Met Police's Sapphire Unit, told the Advertiser: "Jaji is clearly a dangerous individual with a predatory interest in young girls and as a Londoner I feel safer now he has been taken off of our streets."

"This was a particularly brutal but unusual attack on an innocent 11-year-old schoolgirl, who will no doubt continue to suffer the emotional scars of what happened to her for a very long time. I would like to take this opportunity to praise the bravery of the victim and her family."

Jaji was found guilty in April after the court heard evidence that the victim's blood was found on his clothes, including on the inside waistband of his boxer shorts.

He had previous convictions including for the robbery and sexual assault of a 12-year-old girl when he was 16 and possession of and making indecent images of young children.

His sentences for those offences were not long enough for him to be placed on the sex offenders' register.

An additional count of rape and another of attempted rape was requested to remain on his file.

Knife robber jailed for three-week spree stealing phones and clothes

A TEENAGE robber, who threatened his victims with a knife, has been jailed for more than four-and-a-half years.

Ahmed Ali, 18, stole clothes, mobile phones and cash from victims as young as 12 during a three-week crime spree across north London.

Wood Green Crown Court heard that on Sunday March 3, Ali got out of a Vauxhall Astra car in Chase Way, Southgate, and threatened a 21-year-old man with a knife.

He removed the man's jacket before forcing him to the ground and taking his shoes and mobile phone.

Twelve days later, on Saturday March 15, he targeted a 12-year-old boy as he walked home along Christchurch Avenue, North Finchley.

As the youngster watched a video on his phone, Ali sneaked up on him and snatched the phone out of his hand.

The following Friday, Ali, along with another man, stole a 19-year-old's phone and Oyster card at knife-point in High Road, North Finchley.

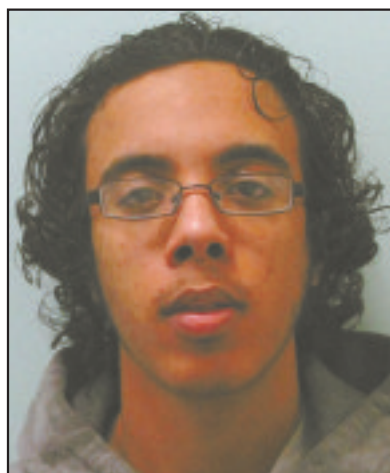

Four days later, in Woodhouse Road, Finchley, Ali asked a 15-year-old boy if he wanted to buy drugs.

When the boy declined, Ali patted down the teen's pockets while intimating that he had a knife. The 15-year-old was told: "Don't do anything stupid, or I will get my boys."

Ali, of Myddleton House, The Grange, East Finchley, was caught when the Vauxhall Astra he had got out of before his first robbery was discovered with one of his fingerprints inside.

When he was arrested police found that he had the black Ralph Lauren jacket and Nike Air Jordan trainers that had been stolen in the Southgate robbery.

Ali was picked out of an identity parade by two of his victims and was identified on CCTV stealing the 12-year-old's phone.

Jailed for robbery: Ahmed Ali

He pleaded guilty to three robberies and one count of theft from a person and was sentenced on Wednesday last week to four years and eight months in prison.

Detective Constable Chris Wall said: "Ali put people through a terrifying ordeal. One victim told officers how he was 'frozen in fear'."

"The court has sent a clear warning that the public can expect to be protected from those who use knives to threaten violence and perpetrators can expect to spend a long time in prison."

Newly-weds despair as film goes missing

By Kim Inam

kim.inam@nlhnews.co.uk

A NEWLY-MARRIED couple are appealing for help to trace precious footage of their special day which went missing during the reception.

Robert and Louisa Levi, from South Woodford in Essex, were celebrating their nuptials at the Royal Chace Hotel, in The Ridgeway, Enfield, on Saturday evening when their cameraman Antony Clarke realised his wallet and a memory card were missing from his bag.

The memory card contained footage of Louisa, 36, getting ready and being blessed by her family at their home in Willow Road, Enfield, and the wedding ceremony at St Barnabas Greek Orthodox Church, in Finsbury Road, Wood Green.

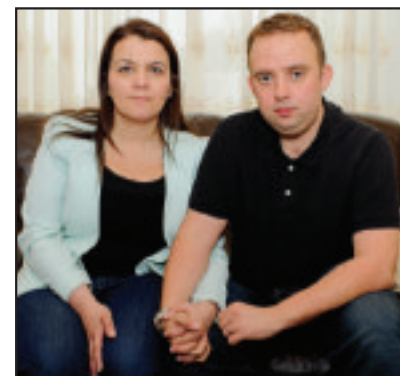

The couple, whose reception included a surprise performance by Britain's Got Talent finalist Stavros Flatley, are heading off today on their honeymoon to the Maldives and are devastated that the footage has gone missing.

Louisa, who works as a GP at the Freezywater Primary Care Centre, said: "As Greeks we do a special ceremony at my parents' house and my dad has siblings across the world so we wanted to share the day with them.

"I have my memories but it was a part Rob wouldn't have seen. Also my dad's sister is 90 years old and is housebound so couldn't make it to the ceremony and we wanted to be able to share that with her."

The dark brown leather wallet also had sentimental value to Mr Clarke as it was a gift from his dying mother and held mementoes including passport photographs and a broken car key chain saying "the limo".

But the couple are optimistic that the missing

Optimistic: Louisa and Robert Levi

items will be found. Robert, 37, a freelance TV producer, added: "Someone must have it, the material is priceless.

"If someone took the wallet, they wouldn't have made anything because there was not much money in there and all the cards have been cancelled.

"We are not interested in pursuing someone, we just want the memory card and wallet back. If someone finds or has them, we just want them to be handed into the newspaper or hotel."

Geoffrey Breese, the hotel's managing director, said his staff had poured through six-and-a-half hours of CCTV footage and clear bin bags and had not been able to locate the missing memory card and wallet.

Police confirmed the missing items had been reported to them.

Undertakers suspended after funeral mix-up

By Ruth McKee

ruth.mckee@nlhnews.co.uk

A FUNERAL home has suspended two members of staff and launched an investigation after "human error" led to the wrong body being buried in a grave.

Co-operative Funeralcare, in Hertford Road, Enfield Highway, has apologised to the families of the deceased after a corpse, that was due to be cremated later that day, was wrongly interred at Edmonton Cemetery, in Church Street.

The body that should have been placed in the grave was left behind in the funeral parlour.

A spokesman from Co-operative Funeralcare told the Advertiser: "Regrettably, we can confirm that as a result of human error the wrong deceased was buried at a cemetery in Enfield.

"We have apologised to those concerned and provided them with full details of the incident.

"We have strict policies and procedures which should be adhered to at all times and we take any lapse very seriously.

"We have launched an investigation into the matter and disciplinary action will be taken if it is deemed necessary. Two members of staff have been suspended."

The Advertiser reported in April that the Lancaster Road branch of the same company, Co-operative Funeralcare, had left a bereaved family shocked and angry after they had engraved the wrong name on a grave marker.

The Ministry of Justice has confirmed that a licence has been granted to the funeral parlour to exhume the body from Edmonton Cemetery.

Squatters evicted as police enforce new powers

In use: This building in Winchmore Hill was taken over by squatters in 2010 and is now occupied by North London Hospice following a multi-million-pound revamp

By Koos Couvée

koos.couvee@nlhnews.co.uk

SQUATTERS occupying residential properties have been evicted by police on five different occasions since it became a criminal offence last year, the Advertiser can reveal.

Figures obtained from the Metropolitan Police show that Enfield Police intervened on two occasions in Southgate and also dealt with squatters illegally occupying residential homes in Enfield Lock, Ponders End and Edmonton between September 1 2012 and May 19 this year.

Two weeks ago, Justice Secretary Chris Grayling revealed that since the Legal Aid, Sentencing and Punishment of Offenders Act came into force in September last year 38 defendants had been prosecuted for squatting offences nationwide.

Under the new legislation the squatting of residential properties became a criminal offence and police have been given powers to act immediately on complaints from residents. Taylor Wilson, chief inspector of compliance and support at Enfield Police, said: "If we get a call from a resident who has been on holiday and come back to find their house squatted, under the new legislation we now have the powers to go in and arrest squatters, whereas previously the owners of the property would have to get a court order, which could take a long time."

"In regards to other properties such as council buildings we will work with Enfield Council and other agencies to obtain relevant court papers and assist during evictions in order to prevent a breach of the peace."

In neighbouring Barnet and Haringey police dealt with six offences in each borough. Barking and Dagenham topped the list in London with 11 offences.

Chris Bond, Enfield's cabinet member for environment, said that local authorities still lacked the powers to tackle the squatting of council buildings effectively and added that more needed to be done to bring empty homes back into use.

He told the Advertiser: "Sometimes it can take absolutely forever to get a group of squatters out of a building. What is important is that residents feel the council is able to deal quickly and effectively with squatters."

"On the other hand, it obviously goes on because there is a great housing need and some people have nowhere to go to. The government should tackle that as well."

"There are a great number of empty buildings and councils need to be given additional powers to bring these back into use quickly as we are facing a huge housing shortage in the borough."

Trio are jailed over gang feud shooting

Men admit grievous bodily harm conspiracy charge

By Kim Inam

kim.inam@nlhnews.co.uk

THREE men have been jailed for their part in the fatal shooting of a Turkish gangster who was gunned down in Turnpike Lane last year.

Minicab driver Suleyman Tonbul, 54, of Grange Road, Upper Edmonton, his 26-year-old son Hassan and unemployed Mehmet Senel, 24, of the same road, pleaded guilty to conspiracy to cause grievous bodily harm to Ali Armagan, who died after being shot in the neck.

Allegedly a member of The Bombacillers, a Hackney-based Turkish gang, the 32-year-old was targeted by the Tottenham Turks in a series of revenge attacks.

The gangs had been feuding since January 2009 at least after Mr Armagan's brother was assaulted in a nightclub in Manor House.

Mr Armagan had parked his Audi A8 in Langham Road at 2.30pm on February 1 2012, having dropped off friends for an appointment nearby. He stayed in the car with another friend.

An hour later, two masked men approached the car from nearby Graham Road. One had a handgun and fired six times into the driver's side of the car.

Victim: Ali Armagan, who was shot while sitting on his car

The men ran away and Armagan got out of the car but collapsed on the pavement and died. Police have still not been able to identify the gunman and his accomplice.

The father and son and Senel were arrested in connection with the shooting in September 2012. On Friday, Suleyman Tonbul was sentenced to eight years behind bars. His son was jailed for 11 years and Senel was jailed for ten years.

Sentencing the trio at the Old Bailey, Judge Anthony Morris QC said: "The attack was part of an ongoing gang feud and the harm that you intended to cause Mr Armagan was very great, even though you did not carry out the murder."

The court heard that police officers from Trident want to speak to two men in connection with the shooting. Kemal Eren, 26, and Omar Murat, 27, both from Tottenham area, are thought to have left the UK shortly after the attack.

Investigating officer Detective Chief Inspector Kenny McDonald said: "Mr Armagan was shot in broad daylight near a busy Tube station as schools ended for the day. Those responsible clearly had no thought for the safety of innocent people in the area."

"We urge anyone with further information about the murder of Ali Armagan to come forward and speak to our team."

Anyone with additional information is asked to contact the incident room on 020 8733 4211, or if they wish to remain anonymous they should call Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

OPINION

COUNCILLOR Alan Sitkin's letter, 'Housing and jobs are our priority' (Advertiser, May 29) made very little sense.

We are constantly being told by him and his chums that there are not enough jobs (which I don't accept, by the way).

Most parents will be aware of the mess Labour has got itself into on school places; health provi-

Building is not making things better

sion in Enfield is already overstretched; and don't even get me started on traffic and parking.

Yet what do we hear from Mr Sitkin now? Build, build, build. Only a fool could think that cramming more and more people into Enfield is going to make things better. It isn't.

While Labour is presumably counting on votes from this never-ending "wave of newcomers", the Conservatives in Enfield are committed to making things better for those who already live here.

Care equality lacking in sheltered accommodation

THERE are two points I would like to make about the story concerning replacement of full-time staff providing extra care by agency staff at three sheltered accommodation blocks (Advertiser, June 5).

Don McGowan talks about increasing equality of care across Enfield – but Alcazar Court, another sheltered accommodation block, whose residents are chosen by Enfield Council, will be retaining its 24/7 care staff.

Where, then, is the equality for residents of Dean House, Newstead House and Len Warren House, who will be losing their 24/7 cover?

Denise Headley incorrectly states that the services are provided free.

My 95-year-old aunt pays £6,000 per annum for rent, heating, water and caretaking, plus electricity, phone and rates, and almost £3,000 a year for half an hour a day of care.

My aunt is in very good mental shape for her age but how can she be expected to realistically design her own care package needs, against an agency who are professionals and who will try to gold-plate her care in order to increase their income?

Many other residents will be in a worse position.

We don't all support 'modern marriage'

I WAS surprised by the attention given to the letter of a young person from Southampton (Advertiser, May 22 and June 5) against David Burrowes MP's views on the gay marriage bill.

I am 19 years of age, brought up in Enfield and, along with many of my friends, support Mr Burrowes' views.

I think it is patronising to assume that all young people want a more modern view of marriage.

Marriage has always been based around a man and a woman and this definition has stood the test of time.

Will you give this letter as big a headline as you gave the opposite view last week – but this time saying "Burrowes is in touch?"

Best of treatment

I READ Monty Meth's article (Advertiser, June 5) concerning Chase Farm Hospital and, speaking as one who has hearing problems, I can say that on every occasion I have attended the audiology department I have received the best of treatment and attention from very well-qualified staff who go about their work very professionally.

I hope that anyone who is concerned about their hearing goes straight to Chase Farm and not elsewhere. Remember, if the audiology department goes, it will not return.

Doctor is always busy

AS an elderly person, I would like to bring to your notice that I can never see my GP.

I have to call the surgery to see if my GP has a vacancy. I have asked to book an appointment in a week's time but they say that this cannot be done. I can see another GP but not my own.

I called this morning and was told yet again to call tomorrow. This really is not good enough.

Crackdown targeted at troublemakers in town

By Kim Inam

kim.inam@nlhnews.co.uk

GROUPS gathering in Enfield Town could be moved along by the police after a dispersal zone came into operation at the weekend.

After groups of schoolchildren terrorised retailers and shoppers in the town last month, Enfield Council and Enfield Police applied for the zone, which gives police the power to disperse groups they think are intent on causing trouble and arrest individuals if they return within 24 hours. Children under the age of 16 will be escorted home to their parents.

The zone will be enforced for six months.

The council's cabinet member for community well-being Christine Hamilton said: "This zone has been introduced as a direct result of the council and the police listening to shopkeepers' concerns and then doing something about them."

"We are determined to keep our town centres safe, clean and inviting places where people want to come and shop."

"We will not allow a small minority to drive away shoppers and jeopardise our businesses' livelihoods by behaving abysmally."

Extra CCTV cameras have also been installed and police and the council are prepared to consider banning troublemakers from the area either through voluntary acceptable behaviour contracts or by implementing an anti-social behaviour order.

Superintendent Jon Speed added: "The introduction of this dispersal zone shows that we will not tolerate bad behaviour in Enfield and we will react quickly and effectively to tackle problems wherever they arise in this borough."

"Anyone suspected of planning to cause trouble will be moved on immediately by officers and they will be arrested if they return within 24 hours."

"Anyone under 16 we suspect of being up to no good will get a ride home in a police car and will have the chance to explain to their parents why they've had to be removed from the town centre."

Rumpus: Police were called to the Salisbury Arms in Winchmore Hill on Sunday evening

Two held after landlord is injured in pub bust-up

POLICE have arrested two men on suspicion of causing grievous bodily harm after a pub landlord was attacked over the weekend.

Officers were called to reports of a fight at the Salisbury Arms Pub, in Hoppers Road, Winchmore Hill, on Sunday evening.

They found the 38-year-old landlord with cuts to both eyebrows and a suspected broken jaw.

A 57-year-old man and a 28-year-old man were arrested at the scene on suspicion of causing grievous bodily harm.

The two men have been released on police bail until July 2 when they are due to return to a north London police station.

Upset: Carolyn Hodgson and Teresa Lefley, from the Friends of Pymmes Park; are worried about the missing geese inset, two of the three remaining goslings

Fears for baby geese missing from park nest

By Daniel O'Brien

daniel.obrien@nlhnews.co.uk

BIRD lovers have expressed concern after a dozen goslings mysteriously disappeared from their nest in Edmonton.

For the past month, families have enjoyed visiting the two geese and their 15 babies nesting in the pond in Pymmes Park, in Victoria Road, Edmonton. But then members of the Friends of Pymmes Park noticed that 12 of the goslings appeared to have left the nest.

Carolyn Hodgson, 54, of nearby Sheldon Road, said she feared the birds had been stolen.

"You do get the odd crows taking the babies, but this was 12 in one night, which is obviously nothing to do with nature," she told the Advertiser. 0

"I can only assume that humans have done this.

It's pretty upsetting because they are all babies."

Ms Hodgson said she had informed the police who patrol parks about the birds' disappearance and the group had spent a week searching the area, but so far there was still no clue as to what had happened to the young geese.

She said: "They were always together and lots of families and children would go to see them because they were babies.

"I just can't think why anyone would just take the babies like that.

"I thought that maybe someone would have noticed something going on but doesn't know where to go or who to tell."

Anyone with any information about the missing birds can contact police on the non-emergency number 101.

Passenger dies in car smash

A MAN has died following a car crash in Brimsdown in the early hours of Sunday morning.

The 30-year-old was seriously injured when the car in which he was travelling was in a collision with a lorry in Mollison Avenue, Brimsdown, at about 4am.

The driver of the car did not stop at the scene but a few hours after the crash police were called to Kings Head Hill, Chingford, to reports of a seriously injured man.

He was rushed to the Royal London Hospital in Whitechapel in east London, where he later died as a result of his injuries.

The driver of the car was traced to an address in Cheshunt.

The 31-year-old was taken to hospital to be treated for his injuries and has since been arrested in connection with the incident.

Mollison Avenue was closed to traffic for six hours.

Event set to help elderly stand firm

ELDERLY residents will be encouraged to keep their feet firmly on the ground at a day of talks and workshops designed to improve balance and prevent potentially dangerous falls.

The event, organised by the Enfield Over 50s Forum, will see residents gather at the Edmonton Leisure Centre, in The Broadway, Edmonton, on Monday to discuss the best ways to stay vertical during their senior years.

"Enfield's over-50s' populations now tops 84,000 and is growing," said forum life president Monty Meth.

"Helping to reduce the risk of them falling as they grow older has always been a key to the work of the Over 50s Forum."

Throughout the day, speakers and workshops will encourage people to stay active by taking up activities including swimming, tai chi, dancing or yoga.

Forum chief: Monty Meth

Mr Meth said it was important more people in the borough became aware of the dangers of falls and the best ways of preventing them. According to the Over 50s Forum, last year Chase Farm Hospital, in The Ridgeway, Enfield, dealt with nearly 3,000 cases of elderly suffering falls. More than 1,200 of those were aged over 85.

"It's clear that falls remain a major problem and a costly one – both for the people involved and the cash-pressed NHS," added Mr Meth.

"Any activity that strengthens the legs and improves your balance can help to reduce the chances of falling.

"So, too, can making sure that your feet are in a healthy condition, that your eyes and hearing are checked regularly and that you have a balanced diet."

The event will be held on June 17 between 10.30am and 3pm. Only people who register with the forum office on 020 8807 2076 will be admitted.

Fire brigade to the rescue of man in pain

THE fire brigade was called to Chase Farm Hospital last Monday after doctors failed to remove a ring stuck on the most private of a man's parts.

A crew went to the hospital in The Ridgeway, Enfield, at 10pm and left about an hour later, said a fire brigade spokesman He was unable to confirm what equipment was used at the hospital.

This is not the first time that firefighters have been called to help a man in distress. Crews were also called to help a man in May 2011 at Queen Elizabeth Hospital, in Woolwich.

Howard Medwell

Leftside

A symbol of the courage of those who fought and died for the right to vote

WHenever the conversation turned towards politics, my mum had a stock answer to my adolescent socialist rantings: “They’re all the same. If it wasn’t for the dear old suffragettes, I wouldn’t even bother to go and vote.” Mum usually ended up voting Liberal, which rather spoils the effect of this story, but anyone of her generation would have understood why she brought “the dear old suffragettes” into the argument.

It was 100 years ago last week, on June 4 1913, that Emily Wilding Davison was trampled to death at the Epsom Derby, while attempting to stage a one-woman demonstration for the right to vote.

Emily Davison was a supporter of the Women’s Social and Political Union, nicknamed the suffragettes. She had already done time in jail for militant acts of protest. The horse that ran her down belonged to the King, George V.

It wasn’t only individual heroism that won votes for women.

The increasing militancy of women trade unionists, for example in the strike at the Eley cartridge factory in Edmonton in 1906; the support of the newly-formed Labour Party; the effects of World War I in bringing millions of women into industrial jobs – these factors persuaded Lloyd George’s coalition to pass the 1917 Representation of the People Act, which, for the first time, accepted the principle of female suffrage.

Emily Davison was not planning to commit suicide. She had travelled to Epsom on a return ticket.

She wasn’t the first person in British history to die fighting for the right to vote – and certainly not the last, if you count people in what was then the British Empire.

But the frail figure, captured on jerky newsreel footage, of “the woman who threw herself under the King’s horse” symbolises the courage of all those who fought for our democratic rights.

Doug Taylor

Leader of Enfield Council

Improving the rail link means we should be travelling in right direction

GOOD news for the borough on the travel front. Network Rail investment, with the Greater London Authority and council investment, will improve the rail link from Stratford to a massively improved Angel Road station.

More trains for the new Meridian Water development will give it a real boost. Meridian Water is the largest regeneration opportunity in London post the Olympics with 5,000 homes, 3,000 new jobs, new schools and new opportunities for our residents.

In addition, for Edmonton residents, the increased train frequency to Stratford will be a real improvement.

The council will also be looking to an innovative way to open up connections to Edmonton Green.

Some people criticise local councils’ lobbying but I am proud of the way that we have, with our neighbouring councils, made the case for Enfield.

It is important to argue continually for our needs as a borough, particularly when money is tight, and we need to be sophisticated in our approach.

As a council we used expert analysis to put the case, based on calculating the added value to the economy and meeting the country’s needs for jobs and homes.

This sort of council work is inevitably unseen but really pays off.

In the future we want to see an improvement in the line further north to Cheshunt and Stansted and a regular four-times-an-hour service to Enfield Town from Seven Sisters.

As well as that, Crossrail 2 offers a great opportunity and we will need to work to get benefits for Enfield by linking it into the Eastern corridor.

That is another opportunity for us to generate real economic benefits for residents of the borough.

As a council we are also looking to further improve the cycle routes in the borough.

Cycling can be cheaper for residents and offer health benefits, but it needs to be safe and that requires investment in routes.

There is GLA money to do this in outer London and, along with most other boroughs, we are preparing a bid for that cash.

Travel matters to us all – road, rail and air. Rest assured this council will do all it can to get the best for Enfield.

Culture vultures get a buzz out of art trail

By Kim Inam
kim.inam@nlhnews.co.uk

HUNDREDS of people traipsed through Palmers Green and Southgate at the weekend on the hunt for a cultural buzz.

The second Open Studios Art Trail was a deemed a huge success by organiser Dan Maier, boosting the local economy as well as raising the profile of artists in the area.

She said: "Hundreds of people were seen trail guide in hand, walking round Palmers Green and Southgate as they went from venue to venue seeking their next creative fix."

"There was a fantastic buzz as people were so excited to have an event showing high-quality craft, design and art in the local area."

"So many people said it's good not to have to go into the West End when they could find this on their own doorstep."

The trail, which received funding from the Arts Council and Enfield Residents' Priority Fund, contained free workshops and demonstrations, including a felt-making session at the Spin City launderette in Green Lanes, Palmers Green, and textile printing at the community orchard in Broomfield Park.

Royal silversmith Steve Wager also showcased the art, making a spoon at Space Gallery, in High Street, Southgate, to 300 adults and children.

His work was raffled at the end of the afternoon as part of the event's fundraising for Woodcroft Wildspace in Winchmore Hill.

Chairman of the wildspace Bob Ladell said: "We thank those who bought raffle tickets to support our charity. Of particular note is the generosity of Steve Wager for his donation to the raffle."

"We hope all of you are regular visitors to Woodcroft Wildspace, which is for the benefit of the whole of Enfield."

The Olive Branch, which was a gallery where some of the pieces were on display, reported an increase in customers on Saturday.

Manager Oliwia Kempczynska said: "There was a constant flow of visitors all day long. People loved coming to see the art on show here and we will be very sad when the paintings come down."

Organisers are planning the next event

Silver star: Steve Wager made a spoon at Space Gallery in Southgate and it was raffled later, with the proceeds going to Woodcroft Wildspace in the area, an Autumn Designer Craft and Art Fair on November 17.

Job lot for women

HUNDREDS of women waited to get in to the first North London Women's Job Fair last week.

The brainchild of Theo Lewis, the recruitment fair saw more than 600 job seekers come through the doors of the Dugdale Centre in Enfield town within the first half an hour on Thursday and there was a steady stream of prospective employees throughout the day.

The event, sponsored by the Enfield Gazette and Advertiser, saw potential candidates identify jobs and training opportunities in the borough with Enfield Council, Enfield Enterprise, Avanta, Caremark and Enfield's fostering and adoption services, as well as home-based businesses.

Theo, a single mother-of-two, who is studying for a law degree with the Open University and is setting up her own business, organised the event after becoming frustrated with the job market, especially for older women.

"People were calling me and pouring their hearts out," she said. "The older you get the job choices are less."

"I'm so happy it has all worked out."

Visitors to the centre in London Road had a variety of reasons for turning up. Some had just moved to the area, others were being made redundant and some were trying to find that all-important first job opportunity.

Susan Gaskell, 43, from Enfield, who was being made redundant from a supermarket chain after 11 years, said: "I've gone through the shock and anger and I'm just looking for anything really. I have an eight-year-old, a mortgage to pay and parents to look after."

"I've registered on all the websites but no matter what you put in they often give your results for elsewhere."

Lula Rocha, a business developer for Forever Living Products, who had a stall at the fair, said she wanted to help the women of Enfield.

"There's so much potential in London and we need to get going in this area," she said. "I want to support people to build an additional income and better health through our products."

The event was attended by deputy mayor Ingrid Cranfield, who has been self-employed for many years and said: "I fully understand it's a struggle for women. I have got three children."

"People don't realise the skills they have until they try something, but don't let people tell you you can't do it. If you put your mind to it, you can succeed."

LASTING POWERS OF ATTORNEY

Lynne Cox, solicitor at Shepherd Harris & Co Solicitors, sets out the benefits of Lasting Powers of Attorney.

HAVE YOU THOUGHT ABOUT MAKING A LASTING POWER OF ATTORNEY?

Losing physical or mental capacity is not something any of us like to think of happening to us in the future, but putting a Lasting Power of Attorney in place can save your family and friends a lot of stress if it ever were to happen.

There are currently 800,000 people in the UK with some form of dementia. In an increasingly ageing population that figure is expected to continue to rise rapidly in the coming years.

A particular problem encountered by many families is if a relative has to go into care. The person needing care may have the funds available to pay the fees, but has lost mental capacity and is no longer able to make payments. Without a Lasting Power of Attorney in place that person's family will not be able to access their funds and so have to apply to the Court of Protection for a Deputyship Order to enable them to do this. This process can take upwards of 6 months and cost in excess of £1,500.

THE LEGAL POSITION

Lasting Powers of Attorney were introduced in October 2007. They have replaced the old Enduring Powers of Attorney which the government felt did not go far enough to safeguard the positions of people who are in very vulnerable situations.

If you have already made an Enduring Power of Attorney this is still valid, and can be used whenever that becomes necessary, but no new Enduring Powers of Attorney can be created.

Lasting Powers of Attorney can only be created if you have the required mental capacity to do so. If you lose mental capacity then you will no longer be able to create one. Once made it will last until you die unless you cancel it. Ideally every adult should have one in place. The key is to make it whilst you are well.

When you create a Lasting Power of Attorney you give the person or people who you appoint to be your attorney(s) the power to make decisions on your behalf. Lasting Powers of Attorney need to be registered with the Office of the Public Guardian before the attorneys can act under them. This is a safeguard to protect donor of the the Lasting Power of Attorney.

TYPES OF LASTING POWER OF ATTORNEY

There are two types of Lasting Power of Attorney:-

- Property and Affairs Lasting Power of Attorney
- Personal Welfare Lasting Power of Attorney

A Property and Affairs Lasting Power of Attorney allows you to appoint one or more attorneys in relation to your property and financial affairs. These attorneys can act even if you still have mental capacity, provided you agree to what they do. However if you lose mental or physical capacity and can no longer deal with your finances then your attorneys are able to act on your behalf.

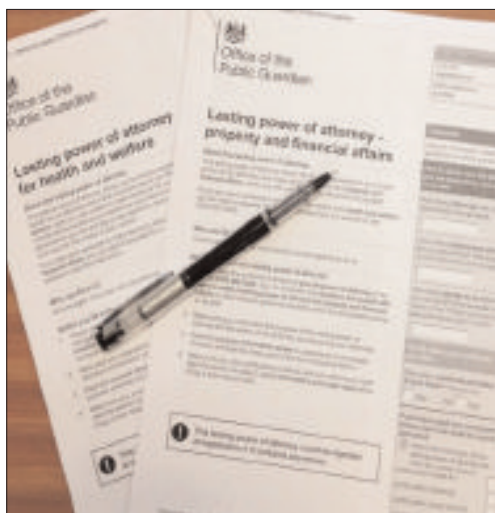

A Personal Welfare Lasting Power of Attorney allows you to appoint one or more attorneys in relation to your personal welfare, including your healthcare. Unlike the Property and Affairs Lasting Power of Attorney, Personal Welfare attorneys can only make decisions on your behalf if you no longer have the mental capacity to make those decisions yourself.

If you create a Personal Welfare Lasting Power of Attorney there is also the opportunity to specify whether you wish your attorneys to have the power to give or withhold consent regarding 'life-sustaining treatment', which is something to consider, particularly if you have strong views on this point. Both types of Lasting Power of Attorney can be restricted and we can advise you on this issue. There is also the possibility of appointing replacement attorneys who could step in if something were to happen to the people appointed as your original attorneys.

HOW WE CAN HELP

We have considerable experience in preparing documents specially tailored to meet your particular needs and wishes. If you wish to create a Lasting Power of Attorney then please contact Lynne Cox on 020 8363 8341, or alternatively email her at lcox@shepherd-harris.co.uk.

Impressed: Author Jane Hissey with pupils from Starks Field School in Edmonton

Old Bear author in school visit

AN illustrator and author was impressed by the day she spent at an Edmonton primary school she visited after pupils invited her along.

Jane Hissey, author of the Old Bear series of books, put herself forward for a competition run by Creative Steps Magazine to visit a school.

Ms Hissey chose Starks Field School, in Church Street, Edmonton, because the youngsters themselves wrote to her.

One letter from eight-year-old Emily Cast said: "You are a superstar at writing and we would love to see your super work in action. We would love to hear you read your wonderful books. And we would like your expert advice on how to write a brilliant story."

The author, who has written stories about childhood toys that belonged to her or her family, spent the day working with children, touring around the school and giving advice and signing books. She also shared her lunch table with pupils.

At the end of the visit, the author thanked the school's staff and pupils for making her day so enjoyable.

She said: "The day was beautifully organised (rarely have I seen better planning) and ran like clockwork. The children were wonderful. They listened attentively, were enthusiastic and knowledgeable in their response to questions and had done an enormous amount of preparation in advance of my visit."

The school's headteacher Davindar Bhalla added: "Jane's visit to Starks Field was a fantastic opportunity for children to meet a real author who can inspire them to read and write."

"It was a fabulous day, especially for those children who had written the winning letters to Jane. She was very impressed!"

Owzat! MPs will lead sides in fundraising cricket clash

By Grant Turnbull

news.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

AN entrepreneur is hoping to raise £15,000 by bringing together the borough's leading politicians to battle it out on the cricket pitch.

Vijay Sujan, 66, who has worked in the travel industry for 25 years, is using the match to kick-start funding for a new venture to support disadvantaged young people in Enfield.

The match will pit Tory MPs Nick de Bois (Enfield North) and David Burrowes (Enfield Southgate) against each other when they meet at the crease on June 21 at Holtwhites Cricket Club.

The event was inspired by Mr Sujan's love of cricket as well as his own experiences of being made redundant and seeing young people at the Jobcentre.

"Young kids are at a loss and desperate," he said. "I hope we can make a difference in this borough before they become a lost generation."

The campaign Skills For Life: Making A Difference is aimed at some of the 2,300 16 to 24-year-olds currently unemployed in the borough.

Mr Sujan hopes the programme will offer positive support systems and practical help from some of the borough's unemployed over-50s, giving the older generation the opportunity to become mentors.

Other groups and businesses providing support include Barclays Bank, Euro Solutions, the Rotary Club of Lower Edmonton and Enfield Voluntary Action.

Mr de Bois, who will captain one of the teams, said: "My cricket skills are frankly rubbish but, despite that, I'm sure my team will perform well in our efforts to support the campaign."

Rival team captain Mr Burrowes told the Advertiser: "It will be an evening of good fun, food and community spirit all in aid of the good work that the charity is doing."

Cricket fan: Vijay Sujan is organising a match in aid of a venture aimed at supporting disadvantaged young people

Andy Love, the MP for Edmonton, newly-elected Enfield mayor Chaudhury Anwar and Enfield Council leader Doug Taylor will all be cheering on from the sidelines.

The match will start at 4pm and will be part of a fundraising family fun day being held at the club, in Holtwhites Hill, Enfield.

After his turn on the field, Mr Burrowes will be auctioning items including a cricket shirt signed by England players, a collection of Amy Winehouse CDs donated by her father Mitch and tickets to Tottenham and Arsenal games. That will be followed by a barbecue and disco.

Hollywood finally does justice to Superman

Hero: Henry Cavill as Superman

Man of Steel (12A, 143 mins)

NOW that Christopher Nolan has completed his Dark Knight trilogy, the filmmaker puts on his producer's hat for Watchmen director Zack Snyder's reboot of the Superman franchise, which traces the rise of the Spandex-clad superhero from birth.

When planet Krypton faces destruction, Jor-El (Russell Crowe) sends his son to Earth in the hope that the child will be spared. The infant is adopted and raised by farmers Jonathan and Martha Kent (Kevin Costner and Diane Lane), who christen the boy Clark and raise him as their own flesh and blood.

From an early age, Clark realises he is different from the other children in Smallville, Kansas, and when the school bus is involved in a terrible accident, Clark uses his untapped powers to save his classmates.

Jonathan and Martha are worried that friends and neighbours will shun Clark if they knew who and what he really was, so the boy keeps his Kryptonian lineage a secret.

Searching for his place in a cruel and unforgiving world, Clark embarks on a journey of self-discovery, tracked by plucky reporter Lois Lane (Amy Adams).

The arrival on Earth of war-mongering Kryptonian General Zod (Michael Shannon) forces Clark to reveal his heroic alter ego but just as Jonathan and Martha feared, men in power are terrified by Superman's abilities and view him as the enemy rather than mankind's potential saviour.

70 years of history seen through the life of ants

By Kim Inam

kim.inam@nlhnews.co.uk

A MULTIMEDIA theatre performance inspired by the life of ants is coming to artsdepot this week.

Curious Directive's latest piece drawing correlation between life and science, After The Rainfall, tells the story of the world of the insects, from colonies to communication, through the narrative of an author and his textbook set in 2023.

The play, which had its premiere at last year's Edinburgh Festival Fringe, considers 70 years of history, from the Suez crisis, to the miners' strike, to the Arab spring, and examines the correlation between the natural and human draw of empire, colonialism and communication.

The scene is set with the help of video projection transporting the audience from the desert into the coal mines and is complemented by a fast-paced dialogue and movement which director Jack Lowe says makes the piece "cinematic".

"We are trying to create a modern piece of theatre," he explains.

"We are a young company responding to questions of scientific value in a time we see that science is part of the culture, as opposed to something that people get bored with in school, thanks to The Blue Planet and Life On Earth and the work of Brian Cox."

Zoologist Henry Ferguson-Gow, biologist Simon Watt, geologist Dr Phillip Allen and social media expert Mike Sizemore collaborated with Curious Directive on the piece, which draws parallels between nature's collaborative team work and communicating and social networking sites such as Twitter.

"The younger audience has been engaged by how modern it feels," Jack added, "and the older audience engages with the historical depth of the work."

This is the last chance to catch the show before the company takes a summer break.

Mediterranean menu with a terrific taste of the sea

Restaurant News

Thalassa
110-112 Chase Side
Southgate
N14 5PH

ON a beautiful summer's afternoon a Mediterranean fish restaurant seemed the perfect choice for a light spot of lunch.

And Thalassa, with its huge French windows and light, airy interiors, is the place to people-watch over a plate of seafood.

The restaurant, in Chase Side, in Southgate, was offering a very reasonably-priced, two-course lunch for £8.95 and, opening up the menu, it seemed as if there were some real gems to choose from.

My dining partner opted for the sauteed mussels and she was not disappointed as a generous plate of fat, juicy mussels, bathing in a zingy lemon and white sauce, duly arrived.

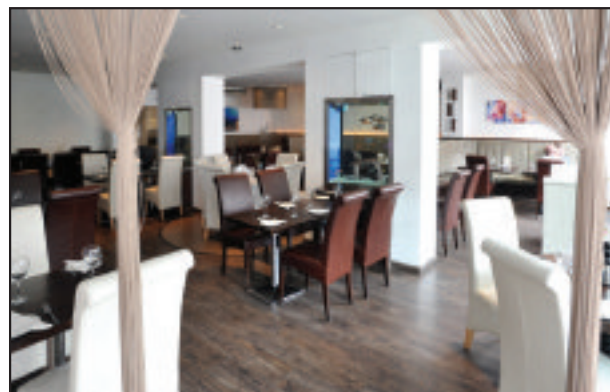

I plumped for the salmon gravadlax with a side salad. The salmon itself was pure heaven. It had a delicate, smoky flavour and melted beautifully in the mouth. The green peppercorn garnish added a lovely extra bite.

It came with two small triangles of toasted brown bread and a small salad, both of which let the side down, somewhat. The stingy portion of toast was burnt and a heavy dressing drowned the salad. A light, lemony dressing would have worked so much better.

And so on to the mains. My seafood salad was again rather hit and miss. There was a generous portion of fish – salmon, squid, baby octopus and prawns – and the tomatoes and peppers were juicy, fresh and full of flavour.

However, once again the dressing was far too heavy and smothered everything else. Lettuce dripping with oil and vinegar is not pleasant and took the shine off a meal, which otherwise would have been a hit.

My companion was much happier

Light and airy: Thalassa, in Chase Side, Southgate

with her main – grilled sea bass fillet with salad. The fish was cooked rather beautifully with the crispy skin, full of flavour, on one side, and the white, fluffy fish on the other.

The salad, again, could have done with less dressing but the sea bass was such a success she found it hard to care.

Dessert again was a mixed bag. The waitress brought out the options for us to inspect and my crème brûlée was a real treat.

The burnt sugar topping, which can sometimes go horribly wrong, was absolutely delicious and the crunchy sugar a beautiful partner to the smooth, creamy dessert below.

However, the carrot cake my friend opted for was on the dry side and the icing a little too sweet for her taste.

Thalassa's food is incredibly good value for money. However, a few tweaks here and there could have improved our experience no end.

ACCURATE VALUATIONS IN ENFIELD

The main factors that affect the price achieved for your home are likely to be size, location and fittings. However, there are innumerable other variations that can add significant value.

Valuing properties in West Enfield is not like valuing properties elsewhere. There are thousands of different styles and in some roads every other property is quite different to the next. The knowledge to appreciate these differences can only be built up over time.

At Ian Gibbs, our valuers have built up that knowledge with over 35 years of valuing properties in the EN1/EN2 area and that experience heightens the chance of you realising the full potential of your greatest financial asset.

CONDITIONS OF ACCEPTANCE FOR ALL ADVERTISEMENTS

Orders are accepted by the Publishers subject to the Standard Conditions agreed between the Newspaper Society and the Institute of Practitioners in Advertising. Save that:

1. Advertisements are accepted on the conditions that (a) descriptions relating to goods are accurate and in no way contravene the provisions of the Trade Descriptions Act 1968, and the Fair Trading Act 1973, and (b) the copy complies with the British Code of Advertising Practice. Advertisements offering credit or hire facilities must conform to the Consumer Credit (Advertisements) Regulations 1980.
2. 'Classified' Advertisers offering goods or service of a business, commercial or trade nature will, at the discretion of the Publishers, be deemed 'Trade Advertisers', and as such, must include their names in advertisements. A telephone number is an optional addition to these requirements and not an alternative.
3. To comply with the Business Advertisements (Disclosure) Order 1977, Trade Advertisers must make it clear that they are selling goods in the course of business either by content, format, size or place of the advertisement or by including words such as 'trade', 'dealer', 'agent', 'wholesaler', '(T)' etc. in the advertisement.
4. The Publishers accept no liability whatsoever for any loss or damage however caused arising out of:
(a) Any error, inaccuracy or omission in the printing or publishing of any advertisement;
(b) Any failure to publish an advertisement on the day / date or day / dates specified by the advertiser; or
(c) Any delay in forwarding or omission to forward replies to box numbers to the Advertiser.
5. The Publishers will endeavour to publish advertisements on the day / date or day / dates specified by the Advertiser but insertion days / dates cannot be guaranteed.
6. Where shrinkage of advertisement occurs for whatever reasons the advertisement will be charged to the nearest full centimetre. This will NOT apply to the full-page advertisements, which remain full pages even after shrinkage.
7. The Publishers reserve the right to reject an advertisement or to vary it in any way they deem fit, at any time before publication, whether or not the advertisement has already been accepted for publication.
8. Whilst every effort is made to minimise errors in advertisements, mistakes do sometimes occur. Advertisers or their agents should therefore check their advertisements and inform us of any errors immediately. Responsibility cannot be accepted for more than one incorrect insertion. Typographical or minor changes, which do not affect the value of the advertisement, do not qualify for republication or allowances.
9. All gross advertising rates (except classified line and semi-display) are subject to and include a 0.1% Advertising Standards Board of Finance surcharge, payable by the advertisers to help finance the self-regulatory control system administered by the Advertising Standards Authority.
10. All rates quoted are subject to VAT at the rate currently in force at the time the advertisement appears.
11. Should the rate for advertisements be altered the price for remaining insertions shall be revised accordingly or the publishers shall have the right to cancel the unexpired portion of the order.
12. The placing of an advertisement order will be deemed an acceptance of these conditions.
13. Account facilities are granted at the discretion of the Company.
14. All accounts must be settled within the terms agreed by the Company and the Customer.
(1) Should an advertiser be in breach of the agreed terms, the publisher shall be entitled to levy a 10% surcharge on the value of the whole debt in respect of accounts with terms of less than 30 days, and any discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed.
(2) Regular monthly accounts that are in breach of the agreed terms will pay an interest rate of 6% above the current bank of England base rate for each month that the account is overdue and discounts or commissions that had been allowed will be reclaimed. Should Legal action be required the interest will be charged in accordance with the County Court Act 1984.
15. Where an advertiser instructs / appoints an advertising agent to act on their behalf, the advertiser will remain jointly and severally liable for payment in respect for an advertisement(s) should the appointed agent fail to pay. For the avoidance of doubt, the agent acts for the advertiser and not for the publisher with the agent being responsible for notifying the advertiser of this liability.
16. All queries must be notified, preferably in writing to the accounts department of the publisher within 7 days of the invoice date.
17. All digital services are maintained in partnership with the publishers' hosting service providers. Every effort is made to ensure the continuity of these services, but some occasional technical downtime beyond the publishers control may occur. The publisher and its associated companies shall be under no liability if the production and distribution of web services is delayed or prevented by any cause beyond the control of the publisher.
18. The Publisher may provide voucher copies for published advertisements in electronic form only subject to certain criteria. Further information is available on request.
19. The copyright of advertisements produced wholly or partially by the Publishers belong to the Publishers. Advertisers may not reproduce such advertisements without the Publishers' consent.
20. Box Numbers
Boxes are open for the receipt of bona fide answers and are not available for distribution of trade canvassing matter. Original testimonials, goods, cash, cash stamps or payments of any kind must not be enclosed. A box Number and postal address are charged as part of the advertisement, i.e. Box No., centre address. There is no charge for forwarding replies.
Box numbers alone are not available for use in 'Trade' advertisements, other than Employment and Business Opportunities.
21. Holiday & Travel Category
All advertising must contain the name of the advertiser, phone number alone are not permitted.
22. Data Protection
The service you have requested may require us to carry out a credit search at a credit-referencing agency, which will record the fact that a search has been made. We may need to share your information with other lenders and credit reference agencies. However, we will only use the information from these searches to make credit-granting decisions and, if necessary, for fraud prevention or tracing debtors.
23. Data controller will use your information for administration and analysis. We may share your information with other Tindle Group Newspaper companies or carefully selected third parties. We, or they, may send you details of other goods and services, which may be of interest to you. The information may be provided by letter, telephone or other reasonable means of communication. Calls may be recorded or monitored for training purposes.
24. Special conditions apply with regard to the advertising of adult services, which are outlined to all persons submitting such advertisements.

VILLAS-BOAS' IMPACT IS PRAISED BY BALE

By Dominique Stafford

sport.enfield@nlhnews.co.uk

GARETH BALE has hailed the impact that head coach Andre Villas-Boas made during his first season at Tottenham Hotspur.

Villas-Boas arrived at White Hart Lane last summer looking to restore his reputation following a difficult spell at Chelsea, where he was sacked after little more than eight months in charge.

And, after overcoming a slow start to the season, Villas-Boas did just that as he helped Spurs to record their highest ever points total in the Premier League – even though it was not quite enough for them to seal Champions League qualification.

Tottenham's impressive campaign was largely due to a series of outstanding performances from Bale, and the Welsh international revealed that he has really enjoyed working under Villas-Boas.

"He has helped me in all aspects of my game," said Bale, who looks increasingly likely to stay at Spurs despite interest from a number of Europe's leading clubs.

"In training we have been working on things that I can do in games, and in matches he has given me the confidence to do what I want and do what I do best, which is a massive thing for a player.

"Everyone was excited about him coming in. He is a young manager and he has got a great past at Porto. Maybe not so much at Chelsea but, given time like he was last season, he has shown what a good manager he is. It has been a very exciting time for the club.

"He has tried his new tactics, his new style of play with us. Sometimes it does take a bit of time just to get used to it, and at the start of the season I think that was a bit difficult. But we adapted and got stronger and stronger."

Meanwhile, William Gallas has left Tottenham after coming to the end of his contract.

The veteran French international defender arrived from Arsenal in August 2010 and went on to make 78 first-team appearances, captaining the side on several occasions.

Putting his ideas across: Andre Villas-Boas guided Tottenham Hotspur to their best ever points total in the Premier League last season

David Bentley has also been released to bring an end to a hugely disappointing five-year stay at White Hart Lane. The midfielder joined the club from Blackburn Rovers in a £15million deal but struggled to make any impact and spent a number of spells out on loan.

Goalkeeper Heurelho Gomes, who was on loan at German outfit Hoffenheim during the second half of last season, also looks set to leave the club after dropping down to third in the pecking order behind Hugo Lloris and Brad Friedel.

"My spell in Germany was very good as I helped to save Hoffenheim from relegation to the second division," he said. "I had a five-month loan deal as I was not playing at Tottenham.

"Now it's over and I have to report for duty with Tottenham, but it's likely I will leave so I can continue my career as I am doing very well."

Defeat leaves Hornsey in the drop zone

HORNSEY slipped into the relegation zone of the top flight of the Middlesex County Cricket League after suffering an eight-wicket defeat at table-topping Ealing on Saturday.

Batting first, Richard Wharton (59) and Imraan Mohammed (53) helped Hornsey reach 183 in the face of fine bowling from Chris Peplow (5-52) and Ishan Ratnayake (4-60).

But the visitors never looked like defending their total as Ahmed Elech (61) and Luke Stoughton (51 not out) helped to guide Ealing to a comprehensive victory.

There was also disappointment for North Middlesex as they were narrowly beaten by 15 runs at Division Two leaders Shepherds Bush.

Tom Nicoll claimed figures of 6-55 as Shepherds Bush were dismissed for 185 batting first, with Sam Dishan making 63.

North Middlesex then slipped to 100-8 in reply, but a ninth-wicket stand of 69 between Joe Hewton (62 not out) and Edward Bird (21) gave them renewed hope – only for the last two wickets to fall in quick succession as they were bowled out for 170.

Meanwhile, Carman Mapatuna shone with the ball as Highgate romped to a seven-wicket win at struggling Edmonton in Division Three.

Mapatuna took 5-37 as the hosts were dismissed for just 104, and Highgate cruised to 108-3 in reply.

However, North London lost by five wickets at home to Kenton in a high-scoring match.

Ben Hocking (73) and Mark Askew played well as North London amassed 224-8 batting first, but Sachin Patel hit an unbeaten 77 to guide Kenton to 227-5 in reply.

Hornsey go to Stanmore on Saturday, while North Middlesex visit Brondesbury, Highgate host Kenton and North London make the trip to Wembley.

Skolars triumph in high-scoring thriller

AN ASTONISHING game in South Shields on Sunday saw the London Skolars overhaul a 20-point deficit to snatch a remarkable 55-52 victory at Gateshead Thunder in rugby league's Kingstone Press Championship One.

The Skolars fell behind early on through a Benn Hardcastle try, but they then seemed to take control of the match as Alex Hurst, Ade Adebisi and Dave Williams all touched down.

However, they then conceded five tries in a manic 15-minute spell as Gateshead cut loose – with Danny Nicholas, Josh Neilson, Jason Payne, Callum Cockburn and Omari Caro all touching down.

Adebisi gave the visitors renewed hope by scoring in the corner on the stroke of half-time to leave them trailing 34-18, and they turned the match on its head by claiming four unanswered tries in the first 15 minutes of the second period.

Hurst touched down for the second time, before Louis Robinson, Erjon Dollapi and Joe Price all got their names on the scoresheet.

Although Sam Latus hit back with a try for Gateshead, Hurst crossed the line twice more, and with Dylan Skee kicking his seventh conversion, the visitors looked safe with a 54-40 lead.

The hosts scored virtually straight from the restart through Caro's second try, only for Andy McLean to coolly slot over a drop goal from halfway to put the Skolars nine points ahead with five minutes remaining.

Gateshead refused to give up and Paul Stamp crossed the line with a minute to go, forcing the visitors to defend for one last set of six tackles before the final hooter sealed their thrilling triumph.

The London Skolars host the Gloucestershire All Golds on Sunday (3pm).
